

Your Support Has Already Made A Difference

Together, we can do even more.
After each Runway Show, the work continues and so can your impact.

RUNWAY
FOR Recovery

As you reflect on the powerful moments you witnessed on the runway this year – faces of strength, voices of loss, smiles that carried unimaginable resilience – know this:

Your presence fuels more than applause. It funds real, tangible change in the lives of families navigating the heartbreak of a terminal diagnosis or the devastating loss of a parent to breast cancer.

This past year, —
because of your support,
we said "yes" to 69 families.

Mothers, fathers, children, caregivers – providing them with critical financial support.

These aren't just numbers; they are lifelines.

One mother, balancing Stage IV breast cancer with raising six children and supporting a son recovering from a traumatic brain injury, was able to keep her home, put food on the table, and begin healing because YOU showed up.

Another family found solace and stability after a grant covered tuition, groceries, and housing, allowing their daughter to focus on school while her mother underwent treatment.

Your generosity provides more than money, it provides time, dignity, and the chance to just be a family.

Now, we ask for your continued support.

This year, we aim to support 85 families.

- ➔ $500 can cover a month's rent for a family struggling with medical bills.
- ➔ $1,000 can help send a child to summer camp while their mother undergoes treatment.
- ➔ $2,500 can pay for therapy and counseling for children coping with the loss of a parent.

At RUNWAY^{FOR} Recovery we are committed to supporting families after a breast cancer diagnosis – not just funding research, but providing real relief. While many generous donors contribute to breast cancer research, our mission is different: we are here for the after. The late-night hospital visits. The piles of medical bills. The children who still need to feel normal, even in the face of unimaginable loss.
