Letter From the Executive Director

As we reflect on another remarkable year at Runway for Recovery, my heart is filled with profound gratitude for each and every one of you who makes this mission possible. Whether you are a donor, sponsor, partner, advocate, or friend, your unwavering generosity sustains every step we take and every family we support.

This year was about so much more than milestones. It was about honoring lives, creating safe spaces for grief, and standing in solidarity with families navigating the unimaginable. We accomplished this with compassion, care, and a community that continually shows up because of your dedication. Your support enabled us to expand our Family Grants, dance across the country with hundreds of heroic models, host a deeply meaningful retreat, and ensure that fewer children and families experiencing the loss of a parent to breast cancer or a terminal diagnosis feel forgotten or alone.

For the past 19 years, it has always been the families and our models who inspire and drive our efforts. The children, whose resilience teaches us strength; the mothers who courageously prioritize their loved ones even amidst illness; the parents we have lost but who remain forever in our hearts; and the caregivers who embody quiet heroism every day. The bravery of our models, whether currently in treatment or celebrating milestones, continually reminds us of our purpose. It is their courage, grace, and spirit that form the heart of Runway for Recovery, and it remains our deepest privilege to dance beside them.

Each name, each face, and each story shared through our programs fuels our commitment to always say “yes”—to meet every need, to extend every opportunity, and to ensure that hope remains a constant presence in their lives.

Thank you for being an essential part of this extraordinary movement. Together, with empathy and intention, we continue to redefine the breast cancer experience.

With heartfelt gratitude and love,

Olivia Achtmeyer Boger

Runway for Recovery

Letter From the Board Chair

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I want to thank you for standing with Runway for Recovery during another year of growth, service, and holistic impact. Your belief in our mission continues to propel us forward—fueling not only our programs but the hope we provide to families navigating the unthinkable.

In FY25, we expanded our reach to the New York-New Jersey region, hosting our inaugural NYC Runway Show with the incredible Hoda Kotb as one of our signature models. Her story and platform brought new awareness to our work and generated an outpouring of interest in our services. As demand for our services grew, so did our response: last year alone, we funded 69 families—27 more families than we funded the prior year. From healthy groceries to childcare, therapy, summer camp, and beyond—every dollar met a direct and urgent need. This year also marked a major financial milestone, with our revenue growing from $1.2 million in FY24 to $1.97 million in FY25, a reflection of our community’s deepening investment in our mission.

Looking ahead to FY26, we are poised to fund at least 82 families across the country while preserving the personalized, wraparound care that we are known for and defines our approach. Our strategy is rooted in thoughtful growth: expanding responsibly while enhancing the tailored services that grieving families rely on. We also welcomed new board members this year who bring diverse professional expertise and lived experience, strengthening our governance and deepening our commitment to equity and excellence.

I am proud to serve as Board Chair and deeply honored to support this mission alongside such a passionate, dedicated community. Together, we are stepping boldly into the future—for the children and caregivers who depend on us, and in honor of those we’ve lost but whose legacy lives on.

With gratitude,

FY25 Year In Review

FAMILY GRANTS PROGRAM EXPANSION

- Distributed life-changing grants to 69 total families–200 individuals–compared to 42 in the previous year.
- Grants averaged $13,750 per family this year. Each family has a different story, and they all become a part of the fabric of our history and our work. We help families with utilities, groceries, rent, childcare, extracurricular activities, and much more.
- 100% of grant recipients reported improved financial situations and access to self-care resources within 12 months.
- 100% affirmed that their Runway grant made a tangible difference in their lives.

COLLABORATIVE PARTNERSHIPS

- Runway for Recovery builds and sustains a robust network of collaborative partnerships with leading hospitals, cancer centers, and nonprofit organizations across the country to identify and support families who are bereaved or facing a Stage IV breast cancer diagnosis.
- Through strategic relationships with institutions such as Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, Tufts Medical Center, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Yale University Hospital, as well as community-based organizations like The Ellie Fund, Marisa’s Mission, and the Joe Andruzzi Foundation, Runway is able to reach families at critical moments of need.
- Additional partners include Care Dimensions, The Dempsey Center, EMPOWER, the Black Breast Cancer Coalition, and a diverse array of medical centers spanning from UCLA Health and USC Norris in California to Memorial Sloan Kettering in New York and Rutland Regional Medical Center in Vermont.

PLAY FOR RUNWAY

Raised $55,000 through this school-based athletic fundraising program. As we expand into new regions, Play for Runway continues to foster community engagement and generate critical funds for families.

RALLY FOR RUNWAY

In FY25, Runway for Recovery’s community events made a powerful impact, bringing people together through movement, connection, and local support. We hosted 18 Rally for Runway fitness fundraisers across the country, partnering with gyms and studios to offer cycling, dance, and other wellness classes that promote strength and recovery—raising $50,000 in the process.

LOVE FOR RUNWAY

Our two Love for Runway evenings in Concord and Newburyport celebrated the strength of those impacted by breast cancer while spotlighting beloved local businesses. These inspiring gatherings raised $60,000 to fuel our year-round programming and deepen community impact.

PUBLICITY

Last year, Runway for Recovery reached new heights—both figuratively and literally. Just in time for our rebrand, we were proudly featured on the NASDAQ screen in Times Square, amplifying national awareness of our mission in a moment that symbolized the scale and strength of our community. We secured 23 pieces of earned media coverage, including 9 broadcast segments and 14 print features. Notably, our inaugural NYC Runway Show, featuring Hoda Kotb, was spotlighted by NBC New York, People Magazine, Us Weekly, and others—reaching millions and raising over $457,000 for families in the New York/New Jersey region.

Coverage of our Emergency Family Grant Program for breast cancer patients impacted by the LA wildfires also aired across four major Boston news stations and catalyzed an outpouring of support, including a $25,000 donation from PGA Tour pro Wyndham Clark. Overall, our media and influencer outreach reached more than 337,000 followers and drove new visibility and momentum for our life-changing work.

NEW WAYS TO GIVE

Runway for Recovery is committed to making giving as accessible and impactful as possible. In addition to traditional donations, we now gratefully accept contributions via Donor-Advised Funds (DAFs), cryptocurrency, and stock transfers. These flexible giving options allow donors to maximize their philanthropic impact while supporting the families we serve in meaningful, tax-efficient ways. No matter how you choose to give, your generosity directly fuels our mission to provide critical, compassionate support to families navigating breast cancer loss.

MONTHLY DONORS: STEADY SUPPORT, LASTING IMPACT

Our community of monthly donors are the heartbeat of Runway for Recovery, providing steady, reliable support that fuels our mission every day. This cost-effective way of giving allows us to plan ahead, respond swiftly to families in need, and sustain programming that uplifts, connects, and heals. Monthly giving transforms generosity into lasting impact—ensuring that families we serve receive the consistent care and connection they deserve. As some of our most dedicated supporters share:

“Runway is on my mind weekly, but with a lot of “life” going on and a lot of charitable contributions to keep track of, I can’t always prioritize getting my giving organized the way I want to. Being a monthly donor to runway does two things: it makes sure I'm prioritizing my runway donation without having to add it to my to-do list, and it means that my giving reflects the way Runway supports its grantees- persistent support and community."

"It's amazing to see how even small monthly contributions can add up to something powerful. While the big Fashion Shows are inspiring moments of support, monthly giving is what helps sustain this vibrant community all year round."

We are deeply grateful to those who have already taken this pledge—and we warmly invite others to join this powerful and growing movement. Simply select "monthly" in any amount of your choosing when making a donation here:

MODEL SPOTLIGHTS: STRENGTH IN EVERY STEP

Each of our Runway for Recovery events—Boston, New York City, and Newport Beach, California—offers a stage not only for fashion and celebration, but for healing, remembrance, and resilience. The following model stories reflect the unique spirit of each region and the power of showing up, not just for oneself, but for a larger community.

Boston | Michelle Maloney

Michelle Maloney is living proof of the resilience, optimism, and strength that define the Runway for Recovery community. Her journey began in October 2010, when she discovered a lump in her breast and, within days, received two life-changing diagnoses: she was five weeks pregnant—and she had breast cancer.

"It was the sweetest joy coupled with the scariest unknown," Michelle recalls. A self-described overachiever, she immediately assembled a top-notch medical team. "When you talk about the amazing care around New England, I can't even say enough. My team spoiled it for any other doctor in the world. My oncologist even visited me when I had the baby!"

Because treatment couldn't begin until her second trimester, Michelle underwent a mastectomy and chemotherapy at 12 weeks pregnant. She remembers walking around with a baby bump and growing-in grey hair, telling people, "I'm doing just fine!" With unwavering support from her brother and coworkers, she stepped away from work and focused on bringing her son safely into the world.

Thirteen years later, that little boy is thriving. But in 2022, Michelle's life shifted again when a persistent cough led to a diagnosis of stage 4 metastatic breast cancer. Her focus turned to maintaining a "new normal," aided by a fully remote job and a medication regimen with minimal side effects.

Still, as someone used to striving for more, accepting stability has been emotionally complex. "What's hit me the hardest is learning that stable is good," she says. "But I want more than stable for me and my family." In October, Michelle danced down the runway at The Annual Runway Show, Boston, alongside 100 other models—including fellow model and bestselling author Elin Hilderbrand—in front of more than 800 guests. Her joyful presence was a highlight of a night that celebrated life, resilience, and the strength of community.

New York City | Dr. Miriam Greene

As a renowned gynecologist, Dr. Miriam Greene has spent her career delivering life-altering news. But when she became the patient, her world changed. Despite knowing the importance of early detection, she often delayed her own mammograms—until a chance encounter with a patient reminded her to schedule one. That decision saved her life. The mammogram revealed an abnormality, and Miriam—able to read her own scans—knew before anyone told her: it was breast cancer. Caught at Stage 0, she began radiation immediately. “Being a woman, you have a 1 in 12 lifetime risk of getting breast cancer—no family history required,” she says. “I’m not afraid to tell my patients I’ve had breast cancer. I use my experience to encourage them to get their mammograms. No matter the results, you have to keep living.”

Miriam calls breast cancer “a club you never want to be a part of,” but she also knows the importance of sharing her story with those who need encouragement. “I don’t want to be defined by cancer, but if my story helps someone say yes to early detection, it’s worth it.”

In February, Miriam joined The Runway Show, NYC—our inaugural New York City event. She danced on stage at the historic venue alongside fellow survivors and models, including the incredible Hoda Kotb. The night was filled with joy, resilience, and connection, raising more than $457,000 for families across New York and New Jersey.

Southern California | Holly Harmon

Holly Harmon first joined the Runway for Recovery community as a hairstylist, donating her time backstage at The Runway Show, SoCal in 2023. What she witnessed that night—the strength, the celebration, the sense of belonging—left a deep impression. She returned in 2024, this time as a model, to honor her late mother, Denda.

Denda’s breast cancer journey began at age 27, before Holly was born. It returned during Holly’s childhood, and as her mother lost her hair during treatment, Holly stepped in: “I actually got to shave her head, and it’s part of the reason I became a hairstylist. I want to help people feel good in their own skin, no matter what they’re going through.” After another recurrence in 2024, Denda passed away. Her loss, coupled with Holly’s own BRCA-positive status at age 18, has made breast cancer a constant presence in her life. Walking the runway in January at the Balboa Bay Club in Newport Beach became an emotional tribute to her mother’s memory.

“No matter what she was going through, she always put her kids first,” Holly says. “Walking the runway was something I wanted to do to make her proud, but also for my own healing. It brought me closure and gave me a space to honor how hard she fought for so long.” Surrounded by survivors, thrivers, and those walking in remembrance, Holly’s presence reflected the powerful love and legacy that defines the SoCal Runway community.

FAMILY GRANTEE PROFILES

New England: A Circle of Love in the Face of Uncertainty

In a Dorchester apartment, a mother is learning to live a new version of her life. After beating breast cancer once in 2016, she received the devastating news in 2022—while on a college road trip with her children—that the disease had returned in metastatic form. She pulled over, the phone call from her doctor still on speaker, and as the reality set in, her children and their friends surrounded her in a circle of love and comfort. The next morning, she awoke to find “We love you” written in the dust on her car window—a moment of beauty in the midst of heartbreak.

A former high school pre-calculus teacher, she was forced to retire earlier than planned due to the physical toll of treatment. The decision was as emotional as it was practical; teaching had been more than a job—it was her identity. Now, with limited income and increased medical needs, she faces every day with quiet resolve and fierce love for her children.

Her 19-year-old son, a college student studying mechanical engineering, has become one of her greatest supports—filling her gas tank, keeping her company at appointments, and standing by her with strength beyond his years. Her 12-year-old daughter radiates kindness, offering Tylenol when needed, reminding her mom to rest, and cheering her on through their shared tradition of hotel “staycations”—a luxury they can no longer afford, but still dream about.

Despite the challenges, this mother grounds herself in gratitude. “Today’s a good day,” she says. She speaks of how her diagnosis has shifted her view of the world, awakening her to the quiet kindness of others, and deepening her empathy. “Even if I am suffering, I am reminded how many people love me.”

Runway for Recovery awarded this family $29,000 to help ease the burden of daily life and safeguard their children’s stability. This funding supported mortgage payments, groceries, educational expenses for her daughter’s e-learning program, and her son’s continued studies at UMass Lowell. Her story is one of strength not in spite of cancer, but alongside it—a story of hope, humor, and unwavering commitment to her family. It’s a reminder of what Runway stands for: meeting families where they are, honoring their truths, and walking beside them, one day at a time.

New York/New Jersey: Faith in Family

One of our amazing families supported through Runway’s Family Grant Program lives in the Bronx, where a mother is navigating the difficult path of metastatic breast cancer for the second time. First treated in 2014, her cancer returned in 2020 with a Stage IV diagnosis, altering every aspect of her life—from her ability to work to the way she moves through her day. Despite the challenges, her resilience and willpower are unwavering.

What fuels her determination? Her children. Her teenage daughter, a high school sophomore commuting over an hour each way to school, is the light of her life. Her adult son, who balances college courses with caregiving, is her rock. Her eldest daughter is beginning her own journey in adulthood, and though less involved day-to-day, remains part of the family’s story of strength. Her husband, despite his own health limitations, stands by her side everyday.

With physical symptoms that make speaking and breathing difficult, she still finds ways to center herself—crocheting, reading, and connecting with extended family in St. Lucia. She believes deeply in trying, in pushing forward, in faith. “There’s nothing wrong with trying,” she told our team.

Runway for Recovery was proud to have awarded this family a total of $21,000 to help alleviate some of their financial strain. The grant covers monthly rent, groceries, and support for children's activities, including Driver's Ed—all areas identified as essential to the family's well-being and stability. Support from Runway has provided more than financial relief. It has offered dignity, community, and the comfort of knowing they are not alone. Her story is a reflection of the powerful community Runway strives to uplift—individuals and families who face unthinkable obstacles with courage, love, and the quiet, determined grace of simply putting one foot in front of the other.

Southern California: Showing Up, Even When It's Hard

When a Southern California mother first learned about Runway for Recovery through a hospital social worker, she wasn't sure what to expect. Still, she showed up for her 360 intake, despite feeling overwhelmed. "Every day is hard, but I'm doing the best I can," she said. "Even just showing up today—that matters."

A mother of six, she is navigating life with metastatic breast cancer while caring for a son who survived a violent crime and is now living with a traumatic brain injury. The trauma, paired with her own health challenges, has transformed her world. She was the sole provider for her family until her diagnosis, and just as she began treatment, an unexpected insurance lapse—triggered during her son's hospitalization—forced her to pause care for two critical months.

Her days are filled with responsibilities: a kindergartener and a first grader in school, her son's ongoing medical needs, and staying connected with two daughters who live in Florida. Her oldest child, now 26, moved back home to help hold things together. Despite feeling lost at times, she continues to persevere. "Someday I want to help others," she told our team.

With strength drawn from her children, her siblings, and the few support systems she's found, she continues to press forward. She uses a mental health app from her hospital and is actively trying to access counseling—for herself and for her children, who are deeply affected by her illness and the family's struggles. One daughter recently asked, "Is this what happens to everyone?" after learning that both her mom and her grandmother had cancer.

Runway for Recovery awarded this family $15,000 in direct support to help stabilize their circumstances. The funds have gone toward rent assistance, groceries, household supplies, childcare, and gas—meeting core needs and lightening the emotional and financial load she carries every day. Her story is one of survival, advocacy, and fierce love. She is doing what mothers do—showing up, even when it's hard. Her resilience is a testament to the spirit Runway honors every day: families facing profound challenges with grit, grace, and hope for something better.

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT: MOMENTS THAT MATTER WITH THE RED SOX FOUNDATION

At Runway for Recovery, we believe in creating not just stability, but moments of joy, connection, and lasting memories for the families we serve. Our partnership with The Red Sox Foundation brings that belief to life in the most unforgettable way. In addition to their generous financial support of our programs, the Foundation opens the gates of Fenway Park to our families, providing complimentary tickets to Red Sox games—a true gift for children and caregivers navigating the difficult path of illness and loss.

These game days are more than just a chance to watch baseball—they're powerful reminders of childhood, family, and fun. They offer families the chance to pause, connect, and experience the simple joy of being together, surrounded by cheering fans, sunshine, and the sweet indulgence of cotton candy and hot dogs.

One of our Stage IV grantees shared her experience after attending a Red Sox game with her children, father, and sister: "A Red Sox game on a beautiful hot day—it's the epitome of summer. The crowd was loud, it was an exciting close game, and my kids got to eat hot dogs and cotton candy—their two favorite food groups. Does it get any better? The game was literally perfection."

But beyond the experience itself, her words speak to something even deeper: "Runway makes me feel seen. You haven't forgotten that I'm fighting every day just to still be here... I look forward to every communication, every energy check-in, every chance to share how your grant has changed our lives. You help us make memories—trying new sports, taking family trips, and being there for all the firsts. Thank you for always thinking of me."

This partnership reminds us all of the power of showing up—not just once, but consistently—with care, compassion, and community. The Red Sox Foundation helps us create moments that will live on in family photo albums, in childhood memories, and in the hearts of those fighting to hold onto as much normalcy, joy, and hope as possible. We are profoundly grateful for their continued partnership and the magic they bring to families across our Runway community.

ANNUAL AWARDS

The Ilene Beal Legacy of Leadership Award

This year, Runway for Recovery is honored to partner with the Ilene Beal Foundation to present the Ilene Beal Legacy of Leadership Award at our upcoming October Runway Show in Boston. Named for a trailblazer whose quiet strength, dedication, and generosity continue to inspire, the award recognizes a model who exemplifies leadership in community, empathy in action, and a steadfast commitment to lifting others. In 2025, we are delighted to celebrate Lindsay McGloughlin, whose unwavering advocacy, bravery, and service resonate deeply with both Runway's mission and Ilene's legacy.

The Ilene Beal Foundation's partnership goes beyond honoring individual excellence—it reflects a shared belief in nurturing leadership and hope within families facing breast cancer. This important collaboration elevates our mission and brings visibility to the resilience, passion, and power of our model-advocates. By recognizing a standout leader like Lindsay on the runway stage, we not only pay tribute to Ilene's enduring spirit—but also uplift a beacon of empowerment whose influence will extend far beyond this night.

We are profoundly grateful to the Ilene Beal Foundation for their generous support and vision. Their commitment ensures that Runway for Recovery can continue celebrating the courageous leaders among us—models who, through their stories and service, guide our community forward with grace, purpose, and community.

The Bill Achtmeyer High-Five Award

Each year at our Boston Runway Show, we honor a member of the Runway for Recovery community who exemplifies unwavering, enthusiastic, and wholehearted support with the Bill Achtmeyer High-Five Award. Named for our founding Board Chair—whose tireless leadership and boundless energy helped grow Runway from a small local event to a national organization—this award celebrates those who, like Bill, show up for our models and families in every way that matters.

We are thrilled to share that this year's honoree is Tim Llewellyn, a devoted supporter of Runway since 2012 and a longtime champion of our mission. Tim has an extraordinary gift for translating emotion into imagery, and his films have become a defining part of how we tell our story. Through his lens, he captures not just the elegance of our events, but the heart behind them—the courage of our models, the resilience of our families, and the palpable love in the room. His ability to blend cinematic polish with intimate, unscripted moments brings the magic of Runway to life in ways that words alone cannot. Whether it's a husband's tribute to his late wife, a child's first confident walk down the runway, or a survivor's joyful dance, Tim's videos don't just document these moments—they honor them.

In addition to his work at our events, Tim also offers his talent to create legacy videos—special and deeply personal films that individuals can choose to leave for their families and loved ones at the end of their lives. These videos become treasured keepsakes, allowing memories, messages, and love to be preserved and passed on forever.

Nominated by last year's award recipient, Suzanne Lowell, and unanimously selected by our team, Tim's behind-the-scenes dedication and visible presence have made him a pillar of this community. We can't wait to honor Tim and cheer him on—as he has done for so many of us—on October 3rd at our Boston Runway Show.

LOOKING AHEAD

As we step into a new fiscal year, Runway for Recovery remains boldly committed to walking alongside families facing the most challenging moments of their lives. This coming year, your support will power meaningful growth and expanded impact—anchored in compassion, equity, and connection.

In FY26, we will:

- Support at least 85 families facing a Stage IV diagnosis or grieving the loss of a parent to breast cancer. These are families in crisis—and your support helps ensure they receive not only financial relief, but connection, compassion, and a pathway forward.
- Expand our Family Grants Program to reach even more households, with a focus on bilingual outreach and communities of color, where breast cancer outcomes are often worsened by systemic barriers. By growing this program thoughtfully and equitably, we’re meeting families where they are—with culturally responsive care that truly makes a difference.
- Strengthen our referral network by forming new partnerships with hospitals, social workers, and community-based providers in Southern California and the New York/New Jersey area—ensuring more families can access Runway’s support right when they need it most.
- Grow our community of Models, including survivors and those who have lost a parent, to share their stories of strength, love, and resilience. These individuals are at the heart of everything we do, helping to break down stigma and create space for healing and hope.
- Double the reach of our Play for Runway program, bringing 50 school-based teams together to raise grassroots support. This initiative empowers young people to give back while learning about empathy, teamwork, and community impact.
- Invest in the infrastructure that keeps us strong, so we can continue to scale with the same care, agility, and excellence that has made Runway a trusted lifeline for so many.

These goals are ambitious—but they reflect the scale of the need. Currently, we are able to fund only 60-70% of eligible applications each grant cycle. As awareness of our program grows, so too does the demand from families seeking support. With the partnership of this community, we are committed to expanding thoughtfully and equitably—honoring each family’s unique journey while building a more inclusive, responsive network of care.
